Post polio at an early age that effected my leg but my family give me proper attention and with their support I completed my higher education. I did not allow this disability to hamper my professional growth. In addition I am also in touch with social services for the more than 10 years during which I have struggled hard for sensitizing the general public to engage them in social activities for social change, Meanwhile raised voice for the rights of PWDs in providing basic due rights and facilities.
My disability open my eyes to see my abilities
