Professional Summary

With over a decade of dedicated service in the development sector, I have assembled extensive experience as an Educational and Public health professional. My journey has been enriched by collaborations with Government Officials stakeholders and esteemed organizations like UN-WHO, NGOs/INGOs (PHC Global, OPM International, ITA & Sukkur IBA University Assessment Department: Health Department, Riz Consulting, Indus Hospital), where I honed my expertise in various domains including Health EPI, SIAs Polio, Mental Health, Malaria Project, Typhoid Conjugated Vaccine, and in Examination Administrative, Assessment Handling and challenges, planning and budgeting of Field Assessment, Logistics, E.marking, Result Compilation and Generation and Report writing in Education Side.

My skill set also encompasses Data Analysis, including verification, cleaning, formatting, and collection. I excel in creating dynamic dashboards using Excel and Power BI, and I possess the capability to extract relevant data from databases such as EPI MIS, VLMIS, DHIS, MNCH MIS, and ZIM Data.

I bring to the table a strong background in statistical models and tools, utilizing My-SQL, R, Python, and SPSS to visualize data and derive meaningful insights. This proficiency is crucial in understanding trends and making informed projections, a vital contribution to the development and advancement of PMU strategies. Throughout my career, I have focused on leveraging these skills to make a tangible impact on health and education projects. My experience in the sector equips me with a deep understanding of the intricacies and challenges involved. I am committed to utilizing my expertise to drive meaningful progress and contribute to the success and improve of basic health indicators initiatives.

I stand very strong leadership, analytical, individual, and team-building abilities and possess excellent report-writing, presentation, and communication skills.
