OVERVIEW

The aim has always been the effective management of resources, though it be of natural nature or in the form of human resource.

The greatest responsibility on us, is the development and uplift of our District. Living in the tribal system, the focus always remains on the benefit and sustainability of the local masses as these are the most precious resource we have.

To effectively deliver on this continuous responsibility, one must preserve skills of people management, resource allocation, dispute resolution, leadership, great
