COMMUNICATION

As a part of the UCCSO at Polio Program, I was actively engaged in supporting the eradication efforts against poliovirus. This program aimed to tackle the challenges posed by polio through various strategies including vaccination campaigns, surveillance, and community engagement. My responsibilities within this program included collaborating with healthcare professionals, community leaders, and government agencies to ensure effective implementation of vaccination drives and to promote awareness about the importance of polio immunization. Additionally, I played a key role in monitoring and evaluating the program's progress, analysing data, and identifying areas for improvement. Through my involvement in the UCCSO at Polio Program.
