Respected Sir,

I hope this email finds you well. I am writing to bring to your attention an incident that occurred during the recent polio campaign, which necessitated medical attention for two of our workers.

During campaign, while actively engaged in the polio vaccination drive, two of our dedicated workers Qazbano and siatra encountered an unfortunate incident. They were bitten by a dog while carrying out their duties in the field , As a result, immediate medical intervention was required to address the injury sustained during this unforeseen event.

Our priority remains the well-being and safety of our team members, especially when they are executing essential public health initiatives such as the polio campaign. Given the circumstances, our worker had to undergo medical treatment, including consultations, wound care, and medication, to ensure proper healing and prevention of any complications arising from the dog bite.

Attached to this email, please find the detailed medical expenses incurred due to this incident, including receipts and invoices for your reference and review.

In light of these circumstances, we request for the medical expenses accrued as a direct result of the dog bite incident during the polio campaign. Our team member acted diligently and responsibly in fulfilling their duties, and it is our responsibility to support them through this challenging time.
